

Texas Representative Roberto R. Alonzo's

Capitol Report

Constituents, Elected Officials, Guests & Friends:

I extend a personal invitation to you to join me at the Texas House of Representatives' official Swearing-In Ceremony and Opening Day activities for the 84th Regular Session of the Texas Legislature on Tuesday, January 13, 2015, starting at 12:00 PM on the House Floor of the State Capital in Austin. Additionally, I also invite you to personally visit my Capitol Office located at the State Capitol, Room 1N.12 for a meet and greet.

Due to limited seating in the House Gallery, coupled with the heavy traffic expected that day, I highly encourage you to arrive at the State Capitol by 9:00 AM and plan to go to the gallery located on the 3rd floor of the State Capitol by 9:30 AM so that you might get seated for the ceremony. There will also be heavy security entering both the Capitol Building and gaining access to the gallery, so be prepared for long lines that many occur at times. However, should you be unable to gain entry to the Gallery, I have reserved a special Conference Room in the Capitol Extension where you can comfortably watch the ceremony on large flat screen TVs. That room is located in:

Room E2.026 of the Capitol Extension

Furthermore, there will also be additional overflow viewing locations in the Capitol Extension rooms below:

Capitol Auditorium    Room E1.004
Committee Rooms    Room E2.010
                             Room E2.012
                             Room E2.014
                             Room E2.016

I look forward to seeing you on Tuesday, the 13th of January in Austin, as I prepare to take my oath of office for the ninth 2-year term (18 years) honorably representing the constituents of House District 104 in the Legislature.

Sincerely,

Honorable Roberto R. Alonzo
